Overview of the Event:

The “Medication Counseling Sessions” were conducted in various nearby villages surrounding our SSIP campus on 29.09.2022. The initiative aimed to raise awareness about proper medication use, adherence, and safety practices among the rural population. These sessions were designed to address the gap in healthcare knowledge, particularly in terms of understanding prescribed medications and preventing drug misuse.

Event Highlights:

1. Location and Venues:

- Each session was held at the community centers of the respective villages.

2. Duration and Format:

- The sessions took place over the course of a single day, running from 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM.
- A team of 20 volunteers, including faculty members, pharmacists, and students from the Department of Pharmaceutics, facilitated the event.

3. Topics Covered:

- General medication use and adherence
- Understanding side effects and contraindications
- The importance of consulting healthcare professionals
- Proper storage of medications
- The role of diet and lifestyle in enhancing the effectiveness of medications

Beneficiaries of the Program:

- Total Number of Beneficiaries: Approximately 80 individuals across the three villages participated in the sessions.
- The participants were from diverse backgrounds, including elderly people with chronic illnesses, pregnant women, young adults, and caregivers. The sessions were especially beneficial for individuals suffering from diabetes, hypertension, and asthma, as they learned to better manage their medications.

Key Outcomes:

1. Increased Awareness:

- The participants showed a better understanding of the importance of adhering to their medication regimen. Many expressed that they had not been aware of the potential dangers of skipping or overdosing on medication.

2. Improved Confidence:

- Attendees reported feeling more confident in handling their medications. Several elderly individuals mentioned that they were previously confused about the purpose of some of their prescriptions but now feel more in control.

3. Positive Feedback:

- Feedback from the participants was overwhelmingly positive. Many appreciated the practical demonstrations and the opportunity to ask questions directly to healthcare professionals.

4. Identified Challenges:

- A common challenge identified was the lack of access to regular medical care and follow-ups. We have recommended that local healthcare providers collaborate with our campus to conduct regular follow-up sessions.

Conclusion and Recommendations:

The medication counseling sessions were a success, with active participation and engagement from the rural communities. The participants gained valuable knowledge that will help them manage their medications more effectively. We thank the Principal and SSIP campus administration for their support and look forward to organizing more such impactful programs.
